DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

In 2011, the Miami-Dade Public Library System celebrates its 40th anniversary. During the last four decades, Miami-Dade County has undergone incredible economic, social and political changes and so has its Library System. As a result of the 1972 Decade of Progress Bond issue, the Library System constructed eleven branch libraries and a new Main Library during the 1970s and 1980s. During the past decade, the Library System experienced unprecedented expansion with the construction of eleven new libraries and the opening of another eleven smaller libraries in leased spaces, conveniently located in area shopping centers.

Undoubtedly, the Library System excelled at complying with its Mission Statement: To maintain and improve public library services reflecting the informational, educational and recreational needs of our diverse community. Its efforts were recognized in 2008 when the Miami-Dade Public Library System received the nation's highest honor for institutions that make significant and exceptional contributions to their communities. The National Medal from the Institute of Museum and Library Services was awarded at a White House ceremony.

The publication of this strategic plan is the start of a process to better meet the Library System's redefined vision: To be the compelling community destination by providing a Five-Star Customer Service Experience.

I am grateful to our Mayor, Board of County Commissioners and Administration for their support and advice, and to the residents of Miami-Dade County for their loyal and enthusiastic patronage. I am especially grateful to our staff who labor so diligently every day to deliver excellence in library services.

INTRODUCTION

Miami-Dade Public Library System strives to be a user-centric organization. The Administration believes that the ability to change and adapt is what keeps the public library a vital part of the community. In these times of rapid technological changes and serious financial challenges, this is even more important if the library is to remain a viable organization.

The Library has used the Strategic Planning process as a mechanism for introspective analysis; a chance to examine the strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats that we, as an organization, face and to investigate trends in public libraries nationwide, to analyze local demographic information, and to get feedback from the community, through an online focus group. The focus group solicited opinions from the community as to what the Library should concentrate on for the next five years. Through this process, the Library has sought to determine the needs and desires of the rapidly-changing, diverse local community so that we can position the organization to meet those needs and desires.

The goals and objectives outlined in this Strategic Plan are intended to focus the Library in a direction that will enable us to provide the resources, services, and programs most needed by our community. Unlike previous Library Strategic Plans, this plan does not enumerate all of the specific tasks that will be undertaken in order to achieve the goals and objectives outlined in the plan. This is a conscious decision based on the fact that, as a County Department, Miami-Dade Public Library System prepares an annual Business Plan for the current and following fiscal years. The Business Plan aligns with the Strategic Plan and includes the specific tasks that the Department will undertake to meet the goals and objectives in the Strategic Plan. The specific performance measures and targets are entered into a Balanced Scorecard, which becomes a part of the Business Plan. For example, the Library has used a twice yearly Customer Satisfaction Survey and a quarterly Internal Branch Survey to measure how well we are providing 5-Star Customer Service. The Business Plan, including the Scorecard, is reviewed and amended annually at the start of the Fiscal Year. This process allows the Library to progress in an established strategic direction, while still allowing us to make changes to utilize new technology and new ideas that have not yet even emerged.

Public libraries are, above all else, a public service institution. Moving forward, the major emphasis for Miami-Dade Public Library System is embodied in Strategic Goal One:

Establish easily accessible, diverse and enjoyable programs, services, places and facilities to meet our community's unique and growing informational, educational and recreational needs

To this end, we will continue to promote 5-Star Customer Service and to expand access, in its broadest sense, to all in the community through both traditional and innovative approaches. Since Fiscal Year 2000/2001, the Library has opened 22 additional branches and added four bookmobiles. Still, not all of the residents of Miami-Dade County have an easily reachable Library facility. As funding permits, we hope to increase the number of neighborhood branches and/or provide other types of outlets to provide services to all. We will be investigating new ways of delivering service, such as joint-use facilities, portable outlets, or even self-service outlets. In addition, we will continue to make improvements to further assist Library users who have disabilities.

The flexibility built into this plan will allow the Library to best meet the growing and changing needs of this community and to maximize available staff and funding.

NATIONAL LIBRARY TRENDS

Increased Usage of Libraries Along with Flat or Decreased Funding

As reported by the American Library Association in the 2010 report The State of America's Libraries, over the last five years, nationwide public library door counts, circulation, and the use of Internet terminals have been on the increase. Due to the recession, "Americans are turning to their libraries in ever larger numbers for access to resources for employment, continuing education, and government services. The local library, a traditional source of free access to books, magazines, CDs, and DVDs, has become a lifeline, offering technology training and workshops on topics that ranged from résumé-writing to job-interview skills." At the same time, due to the economic recession, many public libraries have faced a significant reduction in funding. This has led to closing of branches, reductions in service hours, inability to stay current with technology, and decreased materials budgets; all negatively impacted the people who so desperately need the resources available at public libraries.

The Public Library as A Community Place Grows in Importance

The public library serves a significant role in the intellectual, emotional, and social life of the community. Because numerous opportunities are happening in one location at the public library (parents exchanging experiences while their children participate in lively story times; ... teens engaging with one another in poster contests, game tournaments, book clubs, and college fairs; ... job seekers assisting one another at computer skills classes; students of all ages receiving homework assistance; ... art and music lovers sharing in the excitement of art exhibitions and musical performances...free access to books, DVDs, computers and Wi-Fi ...), the library is becoming a compelling neighborhood space where people can meet and interact in ways that are not otherwise likely or even possible. This accounts for the fact that door counts are rising even though access to information is more readily available from home or work than ever before.

Collections and Services and Have Been Impacted by Technological Changes

More and more content is being, and will continue to be, delivered electronically and the Library will play a significant role in instructing patrons how to use these new electronic resources and services. 24/7 access is already provided to newspaper, periodical, and informational databases and downloadable books, audio books, and videos and the number of these resources is rapidly increasing. Wireless access is becoming the norm in public libraries; this allows patrons to use their own laptops or those provided by the library to access the Internet. Social networking sites and blogs are now used to reach potential library customers and build a sense of community with existing library customers. Traditional reference service is being conducted using live online chat, e-mail, and text messaging. Mobile access to the library catalogs and websites is also on the increase. Not only do libraries provide access to computer equipment and technology, but they are also one of the few places where community members can learn to use resources such as e-readers. Keeping up with the constant changes in technology is vital for public libraries in order for them to remain relevant to their communities.

STRENGTHS, WEAKNESSES, OPPORTUNITIES AND THREATS (SWOT) ANALYSIS

Strengths	Weaknesses
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A customer focused organization that strives to meet the needs and wants of its community. • Community leaders and decision makers have demonstrated an appreciation of the value of the Library System to the community. • A collection of almost 4 million items that includes materials in a variety of formats and languages. Electronic resources (such as informational databases and downloadable books, audio books, and videos) provide customers with Library resources 24/7. • Highly trained and specialized staff, with strong customer service values, in all areas of Library operations and services. • A robust technology infrastructure that includes fiber access at most locations. Over 1,800 computers for public use and Wi-Fi available at every facility. • Accessibility at 48 facilities and through Mobile Library services, online presence and special services for people with disabilities. • Extensive hours of operations including weekend and evening hours at most facilities. • Well-defined, written policies and procedures, that are reviewed annually and revised if needed, provide standardized service at all facilities. A written Hurricane Emergency Plan and a Continuity of Operations Plan enables the Library to be prepared for possible emergency situations. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Lack of optimal funding for providing additional Library programs and services and maintaining and improving existing facilities and technological infrastructure. • Effectively marketing the Library’s resources, programs and services. • Inability to respond rapidly to evolving and increasing demands for technology. • Aging facilities, with high maintenance costs, are in need of complete renovation and modernization. • Inability to respond to demands for new library facilities. • Not always at the table when community issues are brought up.

ONLINE FOCUS GROUP

In August of 2010, in preparation for this Strategic Plan, the Library conducted a four question online Focus Group by posting it on the Library's web page. The Library already conducts bi-annual surveys to evaluate customer satisfaction with our materials, services, and facilities; therefore, we did not need to do that as part of the Strategic Planning process.

Instead, the goal of the Focus Group was to offer our patrons an opportunity to share their positive and negative feelings about the Library system and their ideas regarding the future direction of the Library System. We were more interested in receiving new, innovative ideas rather than statistics on how people like or dislike the Library system.

We chose to use the same four open ended questions that were used in focus groups conducted in 1999 prior to our 2000-2004 Strategic Plan.

The four survey questions were:

- What do you like most about your Miami-Dade Public Library System or your local Branch?
- What improvements would you like to see?
- Think of the library of the future. If money were no object, describe your ideal library system.
- What services and programs do you see the Library System needing to focus on for the next five years?

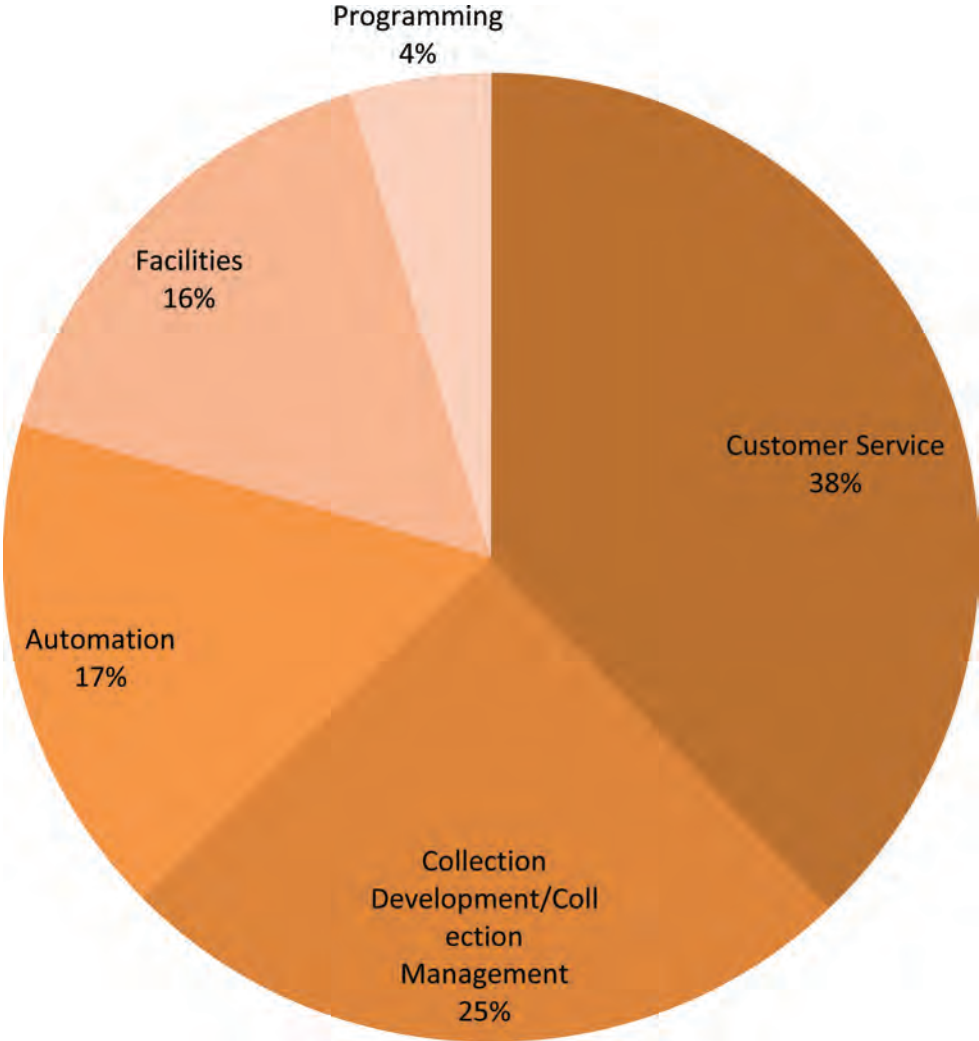

100 patrons responded. Responses almost always included more than one thought per question. Interestingly, most responses fell into the same broad categories that they did in 1999:

- Materials
- Facilities
- Staff
- Services
- Programming
- Electronic Resources

Following are the Focus Group results:

26. Five Important Issues Facing Miami-Dade County in the Next Five Years:

Issue	Library's Role
Economic Development	Business reference sources: e.g., small business, grant information, etc.; computers with Internet, and software for word processing and spreadsheet applications
Children's Rreadiness for School	Story hours introduce children to the enjoyment of books and reading; Reading Ready program encourages and teaches parents to introduce early literacy skills to babies, toddlers and young children; Project Jump Start brings books and other learning materials to disadvantaged children in daycare facilities.
Job Creation	As jobs are created, job seekers can find information about job openings by searching the internet at one of the branch terminals; they can check out books and videos on resume writing and interview skills.
Transportation	Availability of Library resources over the Internet allows customers to retrieve materials without leaving home. Our reserve system enables citizens to pick up materials at their local branches reducing the communities' carbon footprint.
Public Safety	Programs for at-risk children can be developed
